in residence

In 2004 Suzanne returned to university to study creative writing as an aside to her veterinary career.

After many years, she emerged rebranded as a writer, with an interest in women's narratives and time theory.

Suzanne's debut novel, The Place Between, is an absorbing read which tells the story of a lost mother, a forgotten past, and three generations bound by hidden memories. Hear more about this book as well as Suzanne's writing journey during her talk.
